

Mini-spies at large in Leyland

ST ANDREW'S Leyland played host to a band of spies as more than 120 children, aged four to 10, gathered for the church's annual Holiday Bible Club.

This year's theme was Spy Squad, led by Assistant Minister Dave Lewis as Inspector Gadget, ably assisted by leaders Rachel Harris and Katy Turner. Indeed, a whole raft of volunteers from the church family checked in to help keep investigations on track.

Inspector Gadget treated his enthusiastic followers to a week of fun but with a significant Biblical message. Using stories, games, crafts, videos, puppets, music, drama – and giant water pistols - the mini-spies were transported on a Biblical adventure.

"It was a brilliant week, we all had a great time," explained the Inspector. "The spies were really enthusiastic. I was delighted at the way they joined in the fun and learnt at the same time.

"Our Holiday Club is a major event in the St Andrew's Church calendar. Once again, it was a great success. It was tiring but a lot of fun for everybody."

Pic: The super spies gather around Inspector Gadget (Dave Lewis). Katy Turner (left) and Rachel Harris at the St Andrew's Holiday Bible Club.

Dave Lewis as Inspector Gadget